NORFOLK RACING FORMFUL

FAVORITES FARE WELL AND LAYERS HAVE AN ESPECIALLY BAD DAY.

Montcalm an Easy Winner in Feature Race—C. C. Smithson Scores a Double with Chryseis and Sherwood—Ladies' Day Brings Large Crowd.

Norfolk, Va., November 15.—Four favorites and one well-backed second choice were among the winners at Norfolk this afternoon. While the odds on some of them were short, still the layers suffered heavily and the dozen that were in line will remember the day as one of the most disastrous of the meeting. The feature race, an all-aged affair at one mile, proved an easy thing for Montcalm. It marked this horse's third start and third victory during the meeting. J. W. Flynn has succeeded in rounding him into his best form, and it will take a shifty horse to beat him just now. In today's race, Montcalm sprinted into an easy lead on the backstretch and Schlutinger permitted him to draw away and open up a big gap rounding the far turn. In the homestretch he took him under restraint and at the finish he was only cantering.

C. C. Smithson of Washington furnished two of the winners in Chryseis and Sherwood, both of which scored easily. Chryseis led all the way, while Sherwood came from behind and beat Emperor William a length in a driving finish.

It was ladies' day at the track and an immense crowd turned out, filling the grandstand to overflowing. Male patrons were forced to the lawns. The track was in fairly good condition, although wet and slippery in spots. It was drying out rapidly as the afternoon progressed and by tomorrow, provided no more rain falls, the footing should be firm and solid.

New stakes are constantly arriving. W. C.apps exact this afternoon with his string and others are looked for tomorrow. The special that was to have left Latonia, was broken up. W. W. Lyles wired that W. H. Fizer and others had changed their minds at the last moment and sent their strings to Juarez. The big stable owned by J. W. Frye went to Douglas Park, Louisville, where it will remain until the opening of Charleston racing. The horses of George Ham and another carload will be here tomorrow.

Jockey Paine and Hopkins, both recent arrivals, had their first mounts of the meeting this afternoon. Another new rider will be here tomorrow. T. J. Shannon having wired that he would come with the apprentice, C. Turner. Mr. Shannon will bring eight horses.

Tom Shaw joined the ranks of the layers today. None of his old crew was here, so he gathered together a new force. E. J. Ryan dropped in from Philadelphia during the afternoon and signified his intention of cutting in tomorrow.

William Walker, who is getting to be quite a horse trader, sold Michael Angelo this morning to H. G. Bodwell. The latter is gathering some fresh material for winter racing and will probably add a couple of good two-year-olds to his string before the meeting comes to a close.

Samuel Louis also figured in a big deal. He sold six of his string to H. Burttschell. The lot included the following: Monty Fox, Fort Worth, Goldconda, Maltine, Spellbound and Queen Bee.

The weights for the Monticello Handicap, one of the most important events of the meeting, were announced by Fred W. Gerhardt this afternoon. The race is a dash of one mile and will be featured on Saturday's program. There is a list of fifty eligibles. The top weights are Plate Glass, 131; Sir John Johnson, 123; Hillarious, 114; Lawton Wiggin, 111; Prince Ahmed, 114; Electioneer, 109. The two-year-olds Flamma and Breaker Boy are bottom weight at 87 pounds.

Francis J. Pons, general manager of the Charleston Fair and Racing Association, wired this morning that a deal had been consummated with one of the largest railroad contractors in the south to help in the construction and grading of the track at Charleston. This insures the plant being in readiness within a month. All of the big stables here have engaged stable room and many of them will remain here for a week or ten days after the close of the meeting before shipping south. Mr. Pons also wired that he would be in a position to announce his list of officials in a few days and assured horsemen and racegoers that every department of the racing will be in the hands of the most competent men obtainable.

Trainer Frank McCabe has gone to France to pursue his vocation.

AMERICAN MARES FOR AUSTRO-HUNGARY.

They are to go by the steamship President Grant, sailing from New York Saturday to Hamburg, Germany, and thence by train to Budapest. The mares and foals are as follows:

MORE MUD AT MARLBORO.

Washington, D. C., November 15.—As more rain fell last night, it was again a day for the mud snappers at Marlboro. While the sport was tame, most of the winners reaching the judges' stand with the largest margin of the day were the students of form. Three favorites, two second choices and a well-backed horse won, and the ring was hard hit, it being the worst day of the meeting for the layers.

W. B. Carson, who has been the most successful horseman racing here, gathered two more purses when Muff and Jessup Burn won. They were both handled in good style by Schewbig. The latter divided the riding honors of the day with C. Grand, who won the first two races with Elizabeth O. and Mollie Kearney. Hart Dornham, who is racing secretary at this track, will go to Norfolk on Monday in the interest of the Columbia meeting. He is now busy preparing the program book for the first six days of the meeting at that place.

AMERICAN HORSEMEN ARE IMPRESSED.

Racing Men from This Country Enthusiast Over Outlook for Sport at Mexico City.

Mexico City, Mex., November 9.—The horsemen who came here from the United States to participate in the race meeting at Condesa are now enthusiastic in their expressions of opinion as to the future of racing in Mexico City. The rainy season, which was prolonged to an unusual extent this year, is now over and the weather has finally settled, every day being ideal for racing purposes, while the track is improving faster. According to precedent, this condition of affairs will obtain from now until the early part of May.

J. G. Follansbee has been elected president of the Jockey Club Juarez, succeeding Alberto Terrazas, whose large business interests will require all of his attention in the future and leave him no time to properly attend to his duties as president of the racing association in the border city. Mr. Follansbee's extensive connection with turf affairs eminently qualifies him for the position to which he has been elected.

Jockey George Mountain, whose name is familiar to racing men in the United States and who has ridden the largest number of winning mounts during the meeting in progress here, has announced his determination of going to Buenos Ayres at the conclusion of the racing season in Mexico City. Mountain is growing a trifle heavy to make the weights demanded in the United States and it is for this reason that he has decided to go to the capital of the Latin republic in the far south, where the imports are heavier and the climate is more favorable for reducing. Mountain will be accompanied by William Sims, familiarly known as "Chappie," who has been training the strings of several Mexican owners of thoroughbreds for a year past. It is Sims' intention to establish a public training stable in Buenos Ayres.

W. J. Loam, trainer of Shooting Star, winner of the Mexican Derby, which was run on the opening day of the meeting here, is engaged in breaking a band of likely-looking yearlings, some of which will be candidates for the Mexican Derby of 1913. It is his intention to prepare some of them for racing on the tracks of the United States and they will make their premiere in the republic to the north in their two-year-old form. Mr. Loam has been training successfully for a number of owners here.

Tecoco, owned by Guillermo Landu y Escandon, formerly governor of the federal district under the Diaz regime, will make his first appearance on the turf this season, next Saturday. Tecoco went to the post last year in the first Mexican Derby an odds-on favorite, and is still considered by many to be the best race horse of the Mexican-owned contingent, in the occasion of the first Derby Tecoco ran out in the stretch and finished third.

Auspicious weather and a large attendance marked the sixth day of the meeting at Condesa this afternoon. Members of the Mexican Jockey Club and their families were out in force, as considerable interest centered in the fourth race for Mexican foaled three-year-olds. The contenders were Governor G. de Landu y Escandon's Alerta and Dos Estrellas, L. Zivy's fast filly Wiggins and Sen. De la Arena's Marques de San Roman. Unfortunately, San Roman bolted at the start and failed to break, and this untoward circumstance was followed by the erratic actions of Dos Estrellas, which became well nigh unmanageable in the stretch, bumping into his stable mate, Alerta, and seriously interfering with Wiggins. The latter won by a scant margin.

The track was much faster today than hitherto and the first, third and fifth races, all at five and a half furlongs, were run in 1:07½, 1:07½ and 1:07½ respectively.

H. R. Brandt's Harrigan, which had not been running well here, had evidently become acclimated. He won today by a length from the speedy Oakland, which in turn secured second money by two and a half lengths from Chapultepec. Harrigan's time in this race represented a new track record for five and a half furlongs.

Marzo, the second race from W. H. Ford by a head in a spectacular finish, with Wooltex, Robert and Traymore strung out many lengths behind.

W. G. Yanke's Lackrose won by three-quarters of a length from Gore, which ran second in the first Mexican Derby, with the rest of the field, John Louis and Brave Withers thirty lengths behind.

Among the new arrivals here are J. L. Wilson and J. Campa of Juarez, and George North, who came here direct from Coeur d'Alene.

CHARLESTON RACING DATES FAR BACK.

Meeting Scheduled for This Winter Will Revive Sport in Old-Time Stronghold.

Charleston, S. C., November 15.—With the opening of racing here on January 10 next there will come a revival of the sport in one of its earliest localities in America. The first American thoroughbreds came from the Atlantic States, and it was natural that Charleston should early have both a jockey club and a racing track.

In 1874, a comparatively recent date when considering the old American thoroughbreds, it is shown that a meeting was conducted at the Washington course of the South Carolina Jockey Club. This meeting the same year was followed by an extra meeting, which was conducted under the direction of L. A. Hitchcock, at that time one of the leading turfmen of the country. The fact that an extra meeting was necessary is evidence enough of the popularity of the sport in this state. The original meeting, in 1874, was held on February 26, the course being an excellent one for the winter sport.

The extra meeting was on March 6 and 9. In those days of racing at Charleston some of the turfmen, whose names are found in any history of American racing, were L. A. Hitchcock, Jordan & Williams, Jordan & Wilson, T. G. Bacon, A. B. Lewis & Co. and Dr. Walden. Some of the horses that raced during the 1874 meetings over the old course were Limestone, which won a two-mile dash over eight hurdles from Revenge; Lady Washington; Joe Johnson, then a three-year-old, which was started twice the same day; Tabitha, Ellen C., Ortolan, Flower Girl and Mortgage.

With the opening of other race courses in more densely populated districts the sport at Charleston died out, but the spirit of the sport has always remained, and it is inevitable that with the return of the horses in January many of the old glories of the South Carolina Jockey Club will be revived. Racing has undergone many changes since the thirties and since the meetings of 1874, but interest in the sport is as keen now as it was then, and there would be just as glorious and memorable contests was it not that the restrictive laws in many states have been steadily narrowing the horizon for the sportsman and their sport.

It is fitting that racing should come back to this historic old city that so early welcomed the thoroughbred, and the elaborate preparations that are being made to prepare for the return of the racer promise that the revival of the sport will be notable.

BALRONIA, away well in her stride and setting a fast pace, was challenged when an eighth out by SPALDING and ANGELUS, but gamely shook them off, winning in a mild drive. SPALDING ran well, but came very wide down the stretch, losing considerable ground. ANGELUS was always prominent and made a game effort. SIGURD ran fairly well. FROG began slowly and never improved his position.

WIGGINS was outgun early, moved up steadily and when well down the stretch was bumped into several times by ALERTA, but finished gamely and won drawing clear. ALERTA was forced to swerve by DOS ESTRELLAS every time the latter's rider used his whip. DOS ESTRELLAS was speedy, but tired and bolted to the outside, causing ALERTA to swerve over against WIGGINS. MARQUES DE SAN ROMAN bolted at the start and nearly lost his rider, refusing to start at all.

Winner—Ch. h. by Plaudin—Dorothy Hampton (trained by H. R. Brandt). Start fair. Won driving; second and third the same. HARRIGAN was in closest pursuit from the start and when he drew along side of OAKLAND in the stretch was carried wide, but finished gamely and won drawing out. OAKLAND opened a big gap and set a fast pace, but began to tire when an eighth out and finished swerving. CHAPULTEPEC broke sideways and bumped into QUARTERMASTER, receiving the worst of it himself and losing many lengths, the effort to recover telling on him at the finish. The others were beaten off.

Winner—B. g. by Lackford—Sararose (trained by W. H. Buckner). Start good. Won driving; second and third the same. LACKROSE, showing much speed, went to the front at once, and winning all the way, gamely outstayed GORE at the end. GORE ran an excellent race and was a close and game contender throughout, but when called on when an eighth out failed to respond to punishment. BRAVE WITHERS showed a flash of early speed, but quit badly.

Overweights—Gore, 3 pounds.

PASSING OF THE AUCTION POOL.

Louisville, Ky., November 15.—The recent passing of the auction pool stand on the Kentucky tracks, owing to a rule of the Kentucky State Racing Commission putting this mode of betting outside of the pale of the law, ends the oldest form of wagering on running horses known to the American turf. Price McGraith claimed to be the originator of auction pool selling on races in America, and he introduced the system at the close of the Civil War on the Eastern tracks. Dr. R. C. Underwood, an English veterinarian, then took up the business and made a wonderful success of it. He was, perhaps, the greatest pool seller known to racing, with the exception of Robert Cathcart, of this city. Bookmaking finally forced the auction pool stand off the course and it was only restored when the pencilers passed from Kentucky race tracks by rulings of the Kentucky State Racing Commission. Perhaps the biggest auction pool ever sold in this country was knocked down at Saratoga in 1867 by "Doc" Underwood. The ticket called for $75,000 and Ruthless sold as the first choice for $7,500. E. C. Colton buying her in that pool. It was the Saratoga Stakes and the daughter of Eclipse was left at the post. A colt named Red

ANTI-RACING LEGISLATION PROVING COSTLY.

American race-horse owners have made themselves popular in England by their good sportsmanship and the fact that their horses are out to win on every occasion. The American trainers also, equally are appreciated and nothing would please British sportsmen more than to see an American owner and trainer win the Derby. Joyner would receive applause from him many a time if he were to lead out a horse that could win the premier race of the world. This is not only my own feeling, but that of a number of British sportsmen, and the idea came into my head of expressing this opinion through meeting well known English racing men who are extolling the Americans' good sportsmanship, both on British and French racecourses. The Frenchman, who is a true sportsman at heart, is delighted with the fair run he always gets for his money when he buys a ticket on the Vanderbilt or other American horses.

Of course, Richard Croker won the Derby some few years ago, but then, although he lived most of his life in America, we look upon him practically as an Irishman, and I should like to see either Mr. Whitney, Mr. Keene, or Mr. Belmont lead in a Derby winner.

Great things are expected from Shilling, the American jockey. I am told by persons who know him he will make Maher sit up, and as the latter is now topping the list of winning jockeys Shilling must be "some" rider. All I can say is that among the sportsmen of Great Britain there is no such thing as jealousy. We like to see the best man win all the time at racing, boxing, or any other game, no matter what his nationality is, and that is, if I may say so, where I think we lead the world in sport, for we love sport first, and there is never a question of prejudice as to race or creed.

We on the other side are benefiting greatly by cruel, vindictive and unbecomingly mean public from enjoying one of the greatest sports in the world, that of racing. I believe practically every big stable in America is being shifted over bodily either to England or France, along with jockeys, horses, trainers, stable lads, and chunks of the owners' dollars wherewith to pay the piper, and in many cases the owners and their families. Of course, this is all fine for us, but what about the effect on America? Even from the monetary point of view this must surely be a serious matter.

I suppose the money these American owners and their followers will spend in Europe must run into millions of dollars, or whatever you call him here, thinks of it. Personally, I regard the whole thing as a serious matter. It is an insult to the liberty of American people and also a heavy loss to storekeepers and traders of all kinds for the racing community in any country spends ten times more money on everything, from clothes to hotel bills, than any other class of people.

Frequently I wish that it had been my privilege to see the racing you used to have here. I have seen some splendid phantoms here, and there of the American Derby, and it makes one long for that time to be revived. Incidentally it is surprising how many appreciative collectors of sporting pictures there are in Chicago. I have seen some capital collections, and the owners take such a pride in these race horse pictures that I wonder that they do not say more, but I suppose they are too busy making money.

While in New York the writer was surrounded by racing men and naturally it called up the old love for the sport of kings.

Opinion seems greatly divided as to whether racing will come back soon. I had several arguments on the subject and met a literary man who is a strong opponent of racing. My contention was that racing in the long run had a purifying effect on the community.

To my mind the race course is a factor in life. It is one of the schools, just as the stage is. I contend that racing brings all classes together in the finest open air sport that exists. What race courses want is cleaning, not abolishing. Besides, what a tragedy to let horse breeding die out. As for the people who lose money racing, well, if they did not lose it that way they would lose it another. Racing teaches a man to be astute and teaches him common sense.—Marquis of Queensbury in Chicago Tribune.

AN INVALUABLE RACING PUBLICATION.

The American Racing Manual for 1911, now on sale, is a better book than any of its predecessors, having been enriched by the addition of various new features, while at the same time all the old features are retained. Its new features include a thorough presentation of the interesting and timely subject of pari-mutuel calculations with examples, a complete tabulation of the winning two-year-olds of 1910, arranged under their respective sires; and a list of the officials and locations of the various racing organizations of the United States, Canada and Mexico. This publication, which is annually in great demand among those interested in the turf, is an excellent and low-priced book of 442 pages, holding information obtainable in no other publication. It is simply a mine of records. Among the old features retained are:
